

Hello my name is Lori Nuth and I am a student enrolled in the Masters of Education, Instructional Design and Development program at George Mason University. I would like a few minutes of your time to answer this short survey.

I am taking a class for Analysis and Design of Multimedia/Hypermedia Environments. I am a part of a group project where we are to analyze a client and help them determine their needs and goals for a collaboration tool for their members. George Mason University along with the American Association for Teacher Education (AACTE www.aacte.org) is working together in this effort. I would like to get your current view on collaborating with your peers.

1. What is your job position?
2. Do you collaborate with colleagues? How often? What methods do you use?
3. In an ideal situation, how would you like to collaborate with your peers?
4. Explain how having an online collaboration tool would benefit the professional environment for deans, provosts, chairpersons, and professors.
5. How would you use an online collaboration tool to communicate with your colleagues at other universities/colleges? Check all that apply
<input type="checkbox"/> Discuss policies and procedures <input type="checkbox"/> Discuss hot topics in education <input type="checkbox"/> Collaborate on projects between schools <input type="checkbox"/> Post Documents for review or peer feedback <input type="checkbox"/> Review documents posted by peers <input type="checkbox"/> Chat online with other deans, provosts, chairpersons <input type="checkbox"/> Share resources <input type="checkbox"/> Learn from one another <input type="checkbox"/> Other
If other, please specify:
6. List three things that would help you collaborate with your peers?

Thank you for your time.

Regards,

Lori Nuth
lhamilt4@gmu.edu